Christian County holding at eighteen (18) positive COVID-19 cases

We are pleased to share that we are holding steady at 18 total positive cases that have been reported in Christian County. Some other encouraging information is the number of people still requiring monitoring by the health department. Twelve of the 18 cases have now recovered from the virus. Hooray! That leaves only 6 cases that we are monitoring at this time from the positive group.

We have had a very large number of close contacts to monitor throughout the past several weeks. Of that group; we only have 7 that are still being monitored.

Having our number down to only 13 people that need to be monitored out of a county as large as ours is very encouraging.

We firmly believe that social distancing and good handwashing etiquette has helped keep our case count down thus far. Governor Parsons stated in his press conference today that it is very possible we will start to see businesses start opening back up and employees going back to work during the first week in May.

Let's continue to do all we can while the order is still in place to keep our county's health as good as possible. That will give us a great start to moving into this new phase of the COVID pandemic and recovery.
